

Interesting Account of Christian Science Tenets Is Presented by Lecturer

Christian Virtues, Including Gratitude, Humility, Obedience and Faith Are Designated Among "Stepping Stones" in Church by Prof. H. S. Hering

Presenting an interesting account of what the Christian Science tenets are and what their religious requirements of its followers if they wish to progress toward a demonstrative understanding of its teachings, Prof. H. S. Hering, a member of the Board of Lecturers of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, gave a lecture last night at the Marion Church of Christ Scientist.

Professor Hering announced as his subject "Stepping Stones" in Christian Science.

He said in part: "Many of the stepping stones in those taken in all Christian experience with the truth is an actual demonstration which Christian Science makes possible.

Proof of the correctness of its teaching and as required by the Master from His followers."

Immerse Teaching

Among other requirements, the lecturer emphasized the value of many Christian virtues, including gratitude, humility, obedience, faith. He also enumerated many of the spiritual teachings of this new old religion, including, God, Christ Jesus, man, and truth. Clearly the distinction drawn by Christian Science between the real or spiritual and the unreal or material.

Professor Hering's explanation of his subject as understood in Christian Science was very enlightening. He declared that the evolution of the human race and greater willingness of Infinite Love to meet all human needs is proven that the path for spiritual light and strength, for wisdom and understanding, that shall enable us to affirm scientifically that is real and is doing continually what is real in the world, seeing our true relation to God through Christ, is easier. And he pointed out that complete communion with God through prayer is required all along the path into heaven.

Throughout the entire lecture, Professor Hering pointed out the necessity of dependence upon something, since the mind is upon a higher power for guidance, support and help, explaining and illustrating, in a practical manner the uncertainty of the testimony of the physical sciences and the uncertainty of the spiritual. He stated that in one of the physical sciences testifies to infinite "Truth that Truth is not proven through the physical sciences, but only through spiritual study," and quoted frequently from the Bible and from the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science in support of the statements he made.

XTRA GIRL IS BIG PUZZLE OF MOVIES

Solution Found To Curb Struggle for Unattainable

Hollywood, Calif., Dec. — In the days of a little art shop in Hollywood, a colored miniature of a girl showing a woman shackled at the wrists. High up in the azure sky the picture is a fanciful building somewhat resembles the famed temple at Athens. The woman's arms are outstretched in a pathetic, gesture toward the building. That is "the unattainable."

"That" is a motion picture produced as he paused and studied the picture. "Symbolizes the extra girl of nations and disarray which may bring a millennium of peace to the world, but nobody is ever to curb ambition in its struggle for unattainable."

Girls come to Hollywood who should know by one look in the mirror that they will never "crash the rates," let alone make a name for themselves on the screen."

The producer cited statistics to prove his contention. He said that of 3000 women, as recorded by the central casting bureau, who had come to Hollywood to work in motion pictures, only 43 had averaged three days or better a week during the year.

Stories are common in Hollywood of girls forcing their way into the homes of male stars, hiding in their parked machines, or climbing the studio walls to try to see the producer.

There is a certain code of ethics which girls should observe if they want work in the films, and speculating starts is not an item in the code. A number of prominent directors and stars were asked to give a brief suggestion to girls seeking film jobs. The suggestion follows:

Alfred Santell, director: "For heaven's sake, girls, don't go on the street with the seats in your stockings crooked. It looks terrible."

Fred Niblo, director: "Don't apply make-up to your face in public. Con-

CHRISTMAS BIRDS

UNIQUE among the items being purchased for Christmas gifts here this year are the canaries and lovebirds offered as "specials" by a number of local merchants. Vying in popularity almost with the radio are the canaries. It seems the dealers even offer guarantees of the birds' ability—and willingness—to sing.

According to one bird salesman, the canary chooses notes from the songs of other birds to add to the attractiveness of his own.

"That would be all very well," one Marion woman was heard to say. "If one did not, as I do, live near trees that are infested with blackbirds."

Another Marion woman was heard to express the opinion that she hoped that birds would not exceed cans in popularity as pets.

NEW EXHIBIT

Dr. F. A. STENGEK, optician with offices at 142 South State St., has added to his collection of curios and trophies a sample of the unusual material used in building the Marion police and firemen's cottage on the lake. It is a rocky substance of gray, resembling in appearance a sort of washed-out sponge. The sample may be seen in Dr. Stengel's office window.

DUPLICATES

REPORTERS lead a "comparatively" easy life—that is until you're pondering your note shows inferior breeding."

Al Kogell, director: "Don't wear your skirts too short. The rear view of a woman's knees is terrible to behold, so keep them covered."

James Gleason, star: "Don't wear a hat so small that the back of your neck shows under the hat. It's all right if you haven't bobbed hair, but with shaved neck it's awful."

Robert Armstrong, star: "Don't try to change the shape of your mouth with a lipstick. No one ever yet did it successfully."

something in the nature of the following occurrence happens to mark their routine moments.

Phone rings and a voice is heard with a social accent. The reporter learns that a certain young woman entertained a society lad at the same time apparently took an amazingly large part in the program—too large a part for the patience of a hostess.

Becoming dubious the reporter inquires if he heard both names correctly. Is told that he did and that the two names, exactly alike, stand for two distinct persons.

This little account is of another one of those things which "easily happened." The society spoken of is the Utterbein guild of First United Brethren church and the principals are Miss Helen Richardson, No. 1 and No. 2, as they are designated by their friends.

Miss No. 1, who is employed as secretary in the Marion public school superintendent's office, resides at 401 Ohio av., and Miss No. 2 lives at 182 Woodrow av.

Always in the past designated as one of the cleanest cities in Ohio, Marion is getting into the smoke class, especially during the cold weather season.

For evidence of this, take note of the atmosphere during the early morning hours when turnpikes in the uptown district are being stoked up to catch the chill from stores and office rooms.

Apparently anthracite, Pocahontas and other so-called smokeless fuel is not sold extensively to office and mercantile buildings here. Or else these grades of coal have salty retrograde.

Tremendous black volumes of smoke and soot emanating from practically every chimney in the business district on these cold mornings tell the story.

The courthouse is one of the chief offenders. It turns out a canopy of smoke which is almost completely shrouded in any rays of sunlight which may be coming through the clouds and which later settles down to place a mournful tinge on white colors and fresh complexion.

The situation hasn't exactly reached a critical stage but in one which might be improved in other Marion may not lose its reputation as one of the "spottless town" capitals.

Liquor doesn't cure a cold; it only puts one in a mortal state where he doesn't mind it. Bowdery says, "Go and stand it; suffering is good for you."

The utilities of a city are combined in your motor car

YOUR automobile is something like a miniature city. There is an electric light and power system, a water system, a fuel system.

In the new Ford, you will find each of these systems of the latest design and built of the best materials. Every part has been made to serve you faithfully and well and at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Take, for example, the generator—one of the most important parts of the electrical system which supplies the current for lighting and for engine ignition.

In the new Ford, the generator is of the power-house type and is distinctive in many features. It has been specially designed to prevent most forms of trouble. Oiling is necessary only once a year. About the only thing you need do is to have the charging rate changed as the seasons change.

Closely allied to the electrical system is the ignition system. It, too, is of new mechanical design in the new Ford. There is but one high tension cable and that connects the coil with the distributor. Even cables from the distributor to the spark plugs have been eliminated. Special care has also been taken to make the distributor water-proof, thus preventing short circuits from rain, etc.

The electrical and ignition systems of the new Ford are so simple in design and so carefully made that they will give you surprisingly little trouble. Yet that doesn't mean they should be neglected. Certain little attentions are needed from time to time.

The storage battery should be given water and the connections kept clean. The generator charging rate should be changed as indicated. Spark plugs should be cleaned at regular intervals. Distributor points should also be kept clean and the distributor cam given a light film of vaseline every 2000 miles.

These are just little things, but they mean a great deal to your car. You can have them looked after at very small cost by the Ford dealer when you take the car in for oiling and greasing.

A thorough checking-up at regular intervals will lengthen the life of your car and give you many thousands of miles of care-free, economical motoring.

SMOKY CITY. WHILE Pittsburgh, with all of its steel plants, belching forth dense clouds, is reported to have effected at least a partial remedy for the condition which long ago earned it the title of "Smoky City," Marion seems to be going in the other direction.

Apparently anthracite, Pocahontas and other so-called smokeless fuel is not sold extensively to office and mercantile buildings here. Or else these grades of coal have salty retrograde.

Tremendous black volumes of smoke and soot emanating from practically every chimney in the business district on these cold

mornings tell the story.

The courthouse is one of the chief offenders. It turns out a canopy of smoke which is almost completely shrouded in any rays of sunlight which may be coming through the clouds and which later settles down to place a mournful tinge on white colors and fresh complexion.

The situation hasn't exactly reached a critical stage but in one which might be improved in other directions.

Daily Proverb—"Celerity is never more admired than by the negligent."

"Can any man who does not live on and work it afford to own a farm?" asks an exchange. Well, a lot depends on how much money he can afford to lose.

One of our big colleges has decided to introduce a course in household efficiency, but before mankind becomes wildly enthusiastic it may be well to know to what extent the can-opener figures in the course.

Robert Lynd says that "one of the most important things in life is the illusion of the importance of things which are not important." Now we have misjudged some of our politicians!

There is no occasion for surprise over Mr.
John J. Ruskob's prediction that "1929 will be a banner year for business." It's not the head of the Democratic national committee who is talking now, but John J. Ruskob, the business man.

The Swiss have voted favorably on a referendum by which the various cautions have the right to restore the gambling tables eliminated from their cushion some four or five years ago. The Swiss have probably discovered that we Americans refuse to visit lands where we are handicapped in the burning up of our money.

The players presenting a comedy, "Marriages Are Made in Heaven," in the municipal theater in Frankfurt-am-Main, were showered with vio-singling bombs and tear gas grenades when the Delti was presented wearing a knickerbocker golf costume. It might help public morals somewhat were a few tear gas grenades used in some of the theaters over here.

And now the home of a New York financier has been looted of jewels worth $100,000, a $61,000 pearl necklace among them. There's no use talking, we husbands should insist that our wives keep their more valuable jewels in bank safe deposit boxes. To leave them about our homes, is not only an incentive to, but also an encouragement of crime.

Having given red-light turns a trial, Akron has decided to abandon them next Saturday.
Thereafter, all turns must be made on the green signal and pedestrians going with the green light will have right-of-way. It wouldn't be at all surprising should Marion come to realize, one of these days, the wisdom of the change made by Akron. With both red-light and green-light turns, the pedestrian is never freed from menace.

For a Farm Conference.

An invitation has been issued by Louis J. Tabor, master of the National Grange, to the executive officers of other farm organizations for a joint meeting. The purpose is to reach an agreement on a national farm legislative plan.

There is real need for such action on the part of farm leaders. This was the apparent purpose of the conference of farmers of the corn belt at Des Moines two years ago. It was found, however, that those in charge had really called the meeting for the purpose of obtaining endorsement of the McNary-Haugen measure. Opponents of the measure were not given a hearing at that time. And the equalization bill still was the buster at a conference with President Coolidge last winter.

It is possible now that the farm leaders will be willing to work together since there is no possibility of agricultural legislation of any sort with the equalization bill incorporated. With so many angles to proposed farm relief legislation, there is little possibility of obtaining an endorsement of a plan which covers too many subjects.

It seems an agreement could be reached for the appointment of a federal farm board, strengthening cooperatives, financing the purchase of surplus crops and a modification of the tariff, inaugurating the policy of protection on some articles such as hides and vegetable oils and increasing the duty on others such as corn and meats.

Many meetings of agricultural leaders are rendered ineffective because a few radical leaders who have good voices and are inclined with the importance of some hot idea or theory, dominate the meeting. Too little opportunity is given to constructive thinking and too much to useless spouting.

Captain W. H. Combs, managing director of the Navigators and General Insurance company, has wireless the London Mail from the Majestic that he holds an affidavit by Leslie Watson, second officer of the Vestris, revealing serious and important facts which will throw new light on the sinking of the latter vessel. There is no question but what the horror will stand more light, for despite the three investigations held, the cause of the sinking of the Vestris is still a matter of surprise.

Responsibility for Valuables.

Hotel and steamship companies can not pledge the statutory limit of liability, whatever it may be, for losses sustained by their patrons who turn over valuables to such companies for safe-keeping, when such losses are sustained by reason of the fault or the dishonesty of the agents of such companies.

The matter, which came up before the New York appellate division for decision this week, is of interest to those who travel and leave their valuables at the desk of hotel and steamship offices in compliance with the notices on the doors of sleeping-rooms in hotels and on vessels.

Back in 1912, jewels to the value of $300,000, left at the desk of a leading New York hotel for safe-keeping, were stolen by the clerk, who is today serving time in Sing Sing for the crime. All the jewelry was recovered with the exception of a necklace of eighty-four pearls, two diamond rings, a pair of diamond earrings and a diamond brooch.

The woman guest sued the hotel management for the value of the jewelry not recovered, which was shown to be $50,000.

The lower court awarded her a judgment for $250, the limit under the law in force in New York state, which provided that, when safest were kept by hotel or steamship companies for the benefit of guests, the companies maintaining such safest could not be held responsible for valuables belonging to guests when such valuables were not left at the office to be placed therein, and could be held only to the extent of $250 when valuables were so left, and that in no case could hotel and steamship companies be required to receive valuables in excess of $500. This law was changed in 1922 to make the limit of liability $500.

The appellate division, in making its decision this week, expressed the opinion that, as the hotel clerk stole the jewelry after those in authority had invited guests to leave their valuables in the safe, the hotel management could not take advantage of the law to limit its liability, and it awarded judgment for $50,000 with interest from 1912, as prayed for by the woman guest.

While the laws in other states are not identical with that of New York, most of them are along very much the same lines, all of them freeing hotel and ship companies for liability in case of loss sustained by guests by a bad skin. Imperfect and irregular facial lines may be overshadowed by a dazzling complexion in being a variety of beauty to one who would take a miserable photograph. Blessed indeed is that person who adds to good features an unblemished and perfect complexion. That means perfect beauty.

To keep the skin in condition and to preserve beautiful complexion, several things are necessary. First, the surface of the body must be thoroughly cleaned at regular intervals and at all times kept as clean as possible.

It is a rare experience to find a clear complexion in one who is afraid of soap and water. Some day we will discuss cosmetics, but today we will say this to them merely this: The woman who employs them will one day she started their use, if she neglects, before retiring, to wash off every particle of paint and powder. She must thoroughly scrub the skin with an abundance of water and soap before going to bed.

After cleansing the skin, it must be perfectly dried with the towel to prevent chapping. At this stage there is no objection to gentle massaging with a good and pure "cold cream."

After the tub bath or shower there should be brisk rubbing with the bath towel. This leaves the skin of the whole body red and glowing. Ten minutes spent on the skin at night and five minutes in the bath tub every morning, represent fifty per cent. of the cost of a perfect skin and a good complexion. It is a good investment of time and water and soap before going to bed.

The case also develops the fact that in New York at least, and possibly in many other states, it is not the part of wisdom for travelers who make a practice of leaving their valuables "at the desk" to carry an excess of such valuables. The $500 limit of liability for loss sustained provided for by the New York law would be poor compensation for the money and valuables carried by the average hotel guest in the better class of New York hotels, which are as subject to robbery and hold-ups as any other class of business.

Under a new law radically changing the electoral college system, the election will be formally accomplished in the mailing of votes to Washington.

The new system, provided in a law proposed by Rep. Hatton Sumners (D) of Texas, is calculated to save the government $15,000 a year and deprive 48 electors of a trip to Washington. It replaces the method used since the second Congress of 1792 when George Washington was president.

Plan Changed

The electoral college originally intended to function with its own was changed into a body designed only to give formal expression to the popular will.

Under the plan changed by the Sumners law the electors at each state met at the state capitols and selected one elector to carry the vote to Washington and deposit it with the Secretary of State. A mileage allowance of 25 cents a mile was paid to the fortunate electors who got a trip to Washington with plenty of pocket money.

According to the system was a survival of stage coach days. Sumners proposed to save the government $15,000 a year by having the state's electoral vote transmitted by registered mail, and this will be done this year.

The electors are required to fill out six certificates of their votes for president and vice president. One shall be mailed to the president of the Senate. Two are delivered to the Secretary of State of the State on which a check shall be held subject to the order of the President of the Senate and the other preserved as a public record for one year.

Daphne

An Unusual Romance of Love and Sacrifice.

BY HIZEL LIVINGSTON

CHAPTER THIRTY-EIGHT
The last day, the hardest and most difficult ever experienced. The car was in a funeral, because Daphne was on the rampage. Her dark paneled private office on the desk, all its structures, that I planned and running, from the ground floor to the office above, a stock of thrillers at speed, a paroxysm of anger, a grapple with the heads of the upper floor, and Mr. Greely from his office door were ready to send it to the world.

Miss Farley, who was in charge of it, Miss Farley, who was in the outer office, announced a lady to see Daphne hesitated. Why should she be asked to see who it could be, and if I have this message? Will you tell me the message?

Miss Farley agreed reluctantly, giving her young charge a kiss and telling her to see Mr. Greely.

Very Daphne decided that she should call on him, but his sister is a girl, I was to St. John's, where his sister is, and she says it is necessary to see him come running on the street when he has one of these fits, and then he goes to the front door and stays it for about three hours, and then when he goes to the door he never goes back until another attack. He always tears up his clothes. He takes a new one and then he makes a new one and then he leaves it out of this

Daphne was glad when she had seen her husband and could get away from the talkative Miss Farley. They sat in silence to McEvitt, who at a low tangent, it was the first time, was on the warpath. It was when he had an attack of inflammatory encyclopedias. The husband, compounding his sins, was Miss Farley.

He didn't say anything to me. Well then it's probably just to his tantrums. This trouble with McEvitt must be getting rheumatic. His gait is funny. He thinks he's going to die, and he works hard enough to kill any other man.

It is when he had an attack of inflammatory encyclopedias. The husband, compounding his sins, was tical reality on the day the airplane of Wilbur and Orville Wright roared from the wind-swept dunes of the is still actively interested in that

Clips Present Value

Touching on passenger transportation, the president stressed the safety of air travel.

"In 1927," he observed, "the Imperial Airways, Ltd. (of England), carried 52,000 passengers over 2,519,000 miles without injury to a single passenger. In 1928, eight English railways, carrying 10,501 passengers over 3,622,308 miles, killed 22 and injured 21 others."

The president placed the present-day value of commercial aviation to this country at more than $15,000,000.

"This conference, I know, will have far-reaching results in the advance of science and industry which appeals both to the spirit and reason of man and which, as the years go by, will cement more and more firmly the bands of international brotherhood," he said.

TO SEARCH TRAINS

The railway tracks will be patrolled and searched as the train approaches the city.

The communist-anarchist element has long been active in Buenos Aires.
During the railway strike, bombs were exploded upon railway cars near this city, but the damage was small.

The activities of the rebels were increased by the Sanco-Vazquez case when threats were made to blow up the United States consulate.

The "Hoover Special" consists of three private cars, two dining cars and one lounge car and a special coach for the baggage.

United States Ambassador Robert W. Bissell and a high official of the Argentine foreign office traveled to Mendoza on the train to greet Mr.
Hoover when he crossed to frontier from Chile.

After lying for some time at Mendoza, the special train proceeded to Las Cuevas, 75 miles distant, where the Hoover party will board the "Hoover Special."

Medical opinion is still divided over the probable outcome of the king's illness. Some hold that it would be impossible for a man of the king's age (63) to ultimately combat an infection of such long standing successfully. Others declared that if the king's constitution can withstand the infection for a few days more he has a good chance of recovery.

The prince of Wales, heir apparent to the British throne, who raced nearly a quarter of the way round the world to the bedside of his stricken father, paid his second visit to the king's sick room this afternoon.

Endures His Mother

His first visit was last night, immediately after his arrival in London, when he hastened to Buckingham palace, embraced and kissed his mother, Queen Mary, and then tipped softly in the bed where his father was lying, wan and feeble from his long illness.

such action would thwart any plan that attorneys for the company might have for filing a suit in federal court.

WORLD LIMIT LITIGATION

Anticipating that the commission would reject the protest, this procedure, it was pointed out, would force counsel for the gas company to either accept the commission's new rate schedule or appeal to the Ohio supreme court for a reversal of the commission's action. Counsel for the protesting communities voiced confidence that the supreme court would uphold the commission.

Special guards will be on duty at the railway station here and at the United States embassy. Secret service agents will mingle with the crowds at the station and in the streets when the president-elect is driven to the American embassy.

Such procedure, Mouser said, would speed up final disposition of the controversy and would save thousands of dollars for the state and for the protesting communities as compared with possible litigation continuing through a number of years. If the company filed a suit in the federal court here,

Cities Win in Valuations

In practically every instance the utility commission in announcing its tentative valuation agreed with contentions of counsel for the protesting municipalities and rural districts.
The single substantial exception, Mouser pointed out, was that of the valuation of the company's overheads. The commission allowed a valuation about $200,000 greater than that fixed by the protestants.

If Mouser and the city solicitors file a protest, Mouser stated, it will be based upon the commission's valuations for overheads.

LECTION SET FOR

CATON GIVES UP POST
in Master Lists Eight Prime Factors in Solving Farm Problem

On Dec. 12—With elections stated as the chief annual session of the Grange here today in view on the entry of a woman to the political arena—and the election of her husband political speaking for the post of master of the grange should Mrs.

W. G. Vanderbark, Zanesville be elected to head the state organization seven grangers see the title of "stress" of the grange comes within the radius of possibility.

Mr. Vanderbark, the first woman in the organization's 12 years of existence to seek the post has strong opposition and her husband, W. G.
Vanderbark, is listed among her opponents.

Other candidates in the field to succeed Harry A. Caton, Coshocton riving master, who will become secretary of the national grange are C. A. Dyer, Coshocton and Colvin is legislative agent, Dean Alfred Vinson of the Ohio State University College of Agriculture, W. P. Kirk of Clinton, J. W. Fritchier Hamilton and P. S. Tussing, Canal Winchester.

Although the grange has heretofore recognized the quality of the state in holding offices, it has never before seriously considered the possibility of electing a woman to the highest position of that to offer.

Caton is distinguishing the post which he held for seven years. The convention was opened by Caton and Master of the National Grange, J.
J. Tabo, yesterday.

Declaring that solution of the farm problem depends upon a combination of "cost and "right price factors," Caton enumerated the eight as 1—economy in production rather than greater production.

2—The making of new uses for farm products.

3—Opening of no more new lands by the government until there are no more.

4—Cooperation.

5—Relief from state taxation.

6—Fair adjustment to give the farm—equal protection with other lives of the mass.

7—Quality in crop production to avoid large surplus in some crops and scarcity in others.

8—Closer organization of the farm in the state.

Caton warned against submission of an open classification taxation without saying no system of the kind has ever given relief to real estate nor has it equalized relief land.

Delegates from Portsmouth and Athens were today hopefully bidding for the honor of host city to the 1929 convention.

Revive Hopes War
MAY BE PREVENTED

Report Bolivia Will Rejoin Pan-American Conference on Conciliation

Washington, Dec. 12—Reports recently in diplomatic circles that Bolivia has given the United States a formal invitation to a conference on conciliation here and will open the meeting as early as possible to day that the Washington conference and will prove the agency which will prevent war between Bolivia and Paraguay.

Senor Diaz de Medina, Bolivian minister who yesterday withdrawn from the Pan-American meeting, received an understanding order this morning, but they were reported earlier.

The peace efforts of the conference are virtually at a standstill as long as Bolivia is out of the conference and formal meetings were on the schedule today. But outside the regular sessions and behind the scenes America in officials and their South American colleagues are holding every effort to compos the difficulties of the two republics. And despite the apparent seriousness of the situation there was a general belief today that war would be averted in some way.

What form the efforts will take in view of Bolivia's refusal to accept conciliation unless she first obtains more reparation from Paraguay was considered problematic. Some delegates expressed the hope that Bolivia would accept the good offices of the secretary general. Secretary Kellogg, while not a member of the conciliation committee, expressed the hopes that Bolivia would rejoin the general conference.

No additional reports had been received by Bolivian Minister Diaz de Medina, concerning the general situation in Bolivia. The last word received said the reserves had not yet been mobilized but indispensable precautions had been taken.

TALKIES BIG BOOST TO WORLD TONGUE

Believe English Will Become Esperanto Language of Globe

Hollywood, Dec. 11.—John Barrymore, James Gleason, Theodore Roberts and other former stage favorites, now screen stars, believe that the talking picture will create a world

Yesterday
I was all upset
And you would be too
If you had in your mind
What I had in mine
I had gifts to buy
For the wife
And the kids
And here it was Dec. 10th And I was still led As you know how
A man who's got
In a case like that,
Till I happened to say
As I walked along
A big show window
And the name above
Was Jackson's Cut Rate
So I went in and very soon My big troubles
Were little ones
And in a minute
Were gone completely
For the boys in there Treated me so nicely
They showed me things That were just what I wanted
And I left there so satisfied That I must tell you
In case you are worried As I was then
The place to go to get relief

London. The dream of Esperanto is about to come true this winter, it is believed.

English will become the Esperanto language of the world, if not of these talkies enthusiasts exclaimed. "While English may be a difficult language to learn, it is continued, it must be understood that for all people it is to understand our talking pictures. For a long time pictures synchronized with the English tongue will rule the world and the world will probably have to learn English in order to enjoy the pictures. This will result in better understanding between the peoples of the earth and the dream of the Russian saying who invented Esperanto will become a reality—but Esperanto will become a reality—but in English."

That's just one side of the picture and the other side in this case has many sides. Hollywood is a polyglot or nation in terms of the stars and screen stars are learning English with a longing toward some speech, the speech of the mother or fatherland. They are convinced their particular language will conquer the world and the English talkies picture.

The great English producing companies are creating sound studios with the hope that their movie pictures will also conquer the world. France, Germany and Italy, according to word received here, are going into the talkie contest and each one expects to triumph in its world market and impose its particular brand of speech on the picture fan from Greenland's icy mountains to India's coral strand.

POET POPULAR

O. W. U. Mail Recruits Numerous
1 in Letters

DETROIT, Dec. 12.—Harold Wagner, Eastern Ohio Wesleyan university student poet gets an average of 10 mail letters a week. The letters are the result of the program of poems which he broadcast Saturday nights over radio station WCLV, Columbus. Although Wagner is working to earn all the money necessary for his college education, he has no time for writing poetry at little more than the cost of publishing it. He has sold some 1,700 copies of his poems.

Columbus and Delaware as a result of his broadcasts this fall. His fan letters include communications from many prominent persons.

Wagner is working his way through the university by waitressing and by doing odd jobs of any sort which come to hand. Although he is a poet at heart, he is hard-pressed enough to be able to do his day's work of manual labor.

SHUN MATRIMONY

Only Two O. W. U. Girls Name Marriage As Choice of Career

DETROIT, Dec. 12.—Only two girls listed marriage as their intended life careers when answering question on their enrollment questionnaires, an analysis of the responses just completed in the registrar office at Ohio Wesleyan university here has revealed.

Thirty-four girls responded their intention of going into the field of home economics, and letters, however, while 177 exceeded their female proportion by indicating that they were undecided. Teaching and business are attractive to both men and women among the Ohio Wesleyan undergraduates, the analysis revealed. Religious and social work ranked third in popularity, and law fourth.

The great English producing companies are creating sound studios with the hope that their movie pictures will also conquer the world. France, Germany and Italy, according to word received here, are going into the talkie contest and each one expects to triumph in its world market and impose its particular brand of speech on the picture fan from Greenland's icy mountains to India's coral strand.

$120,000,000 ASKED FOR INSTITUTIONS

Appropriation May Have To Come from Two Funds, If Requests Are Granted

Columbus Dec. 12—Requests that the Ohio legislature which convenes here Jan. 7 appropriate in excess of $1,000,000 in state funds for the purposes of increasing contemplated expenditures by various state institutions and departments during the fiscal year beginning Jan. 1 next were made today with State Budget Commissioner Melvin H. Baumann. These requests were submitted by officials of these institutions and departments within the past few weeks.

Baumann pointed out that in the event all these requests are granted the solons would have to appropriate about $80,000,000 from the state's several revenue fund and approximately $10,000,000 from the revenue derived from the state gasoline tax and from automobile and motor bus license fees.

If the legislature insists upon a balanced budget for the take-off year appropriations with adequate revenue, it must either lay aside the state's land appropriations to not more than two thirds the amount of the requests, or about $80,000, 000, it was stated. The impairment provided in statehouse circles that instead of providing for additional taxes the legislature will restrict its appropriations to the estimated available revenue during the coming two years thus insuring a balanced state budget.

This procedure, it was pointed out would be in keeping with the belief of many solons as well as numerous Ohioans that all revenue from the gasoline tax and from the automobile and motor vehicle license fees should be used solely for highway construction and for maintenance and repair of roads.

umbus police department announced by

Bucyrus Clubs Give Successful Performance Of Play

"THE BRAT" PROVES ENTERTAINING SHOW

Girl Reserves and Hi-Y Organization Appear Before Large Audience

MARZOLF IS DIRECTOR

Helen McGuire and Ralph Perratt, Jr., Take Leading Roles

Bucyrus, Dec. 12—"The Brat," a three-act comedy, premiére student dramatic production of the year, was presented to a large and highly entertained audience at the auditorium of the Bucyrus High school Tuesday night by members of the Girls' Reserve and Hi-Y club.

The cast of nine presenting "The Brat" had been largely chosen and every player gave an admirable account of his or her role. The play concerned the love affair and exploits of the "brat," a homeless waif rescued from the sight court of a large city by "Miss Forrester," another member of the fashionable Foster family, who takes her to his home to use as a typist in a book which he is writing, only to find his down-trodden brother, "Steve," portrayed with Ralph Perratt, Jr., much to his disgust and consternation fall in love with her and finally marry her.

Helen McGuire, very charming in the title role, and Donald Taylor as the author, who with Norine Charles as "Angela Smith," settles the question of "all's fair in love and war," gave a most artistic performance.

Others winning special commendation for their interpretation for their respective parts included Clarence Aschenbrenner, as "Bishop Ware," cast as the good natured bishop; Ruth Oberhofer, as "Mrs. Forrester"; Dorothy Berry as "Mrs. White"; Thelma Thielke as "Dorothy"; Esther Flederjohann as "Jane DeLew" and George Gallingher as "Simpson" the butler.

Credit was especially due to Stanley Marzolf, the director, of the performance.

The production staff for "The Brat" included Miss Kathryn Meek, stage manager; Earl Miller, assistant stage manager; Bob Monnett and Paul Knuehl, Clarence Oakwood and Joslin Barger, carpenters; Edwin Thomas and Elmer Cragg, carpenters; Thelma Knuehl, property manager; Elizabeth Benz, assistant property manager; Gile Motzger, hand property manager; Darren Bent, make-up; Jimmie James, wardrobe; James Wile, valet; Robert Bent, programs; Wanda Oakwood, ticket sales; Lloyd Hawley, house manager; Freddie Kerr, head usher; Miss Velma Marzolf, music.

The high school orchestra furnished music before the first act and during intermissions.

under the watchful eyes of the vete-nary student doctors during the past year, according to Doctor Oscar V. Brunley, head of the hospital. The appearance of pre-historic animal at this campus clinic would hardly be a surprise after the different types of animals which the instructors and students have cared for in the past.While a circus was showing in Columbus last summer, one of the lions became seriously ill and the campus hospital had the beast as a patient for several days. In like manner the hospital has been given care of all sorts of animals, both domestic and wild species.The regular registry at the clinic, however, consists largely of horses, cows, dogs, hogs and cats. Parrots, pet canaries, pigeons, and monkeys are not uncommon patients which are intrusted to the student doctors.A traveling dispensary is owned by the hospital and is already to be sent out in emergency cases when the animals cannot be brought to the clinic.
Animals taken to the Ohio State Veterinary Hospital get the same treatment that is given a human being at the best hospital in the country.

Compton Rounds Team into Shape for Opening Fray
Friday

By KATE R. McLEOD

Sports Editor, The Star
W

WITH only 10 games in his record, Eddie Compton had still been faced with the problem of scheduling three games in less than a short time.

Unless addition contests can be slated, the first and third games will enter the district high school tournament, in a great disadvantage, losing experience that can only be obtained through playing a complete schedule.

The Harding schedule will be exceptionally high, even if the best and Compton is setting games with some of the very teams of the state. To date, the quest for contests has been entirely unsuccessful.

Every team approached to date has well declined with a flat no.
